

TEXAS STATE BOARD REPORT

TEXAS STATE BOARD OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTANCY, AUSTIN, TEXAS

Board Honors Rudd, Mason

Former Board members Ronnie Rudd and Jimmie Lee Mason were honored at the TSBPA Board meeting September 21 for their long commitment and service to the accounting profession. Both were cited for their work in Texas and on the national scene.

A Distinguished Alumnus of Baylor University, Ronnie Rudd joined Arthur Andersen in 1964 and became a certified public accountant in 1966. He was made a partner in 1975 and had managed offices in both San Antonio and Austin before his retirement in 2000. During 1983-94, he was audit practice director for the Southwestern U.S.

His service on the Board began in 1989, and he was presiding officer during 1992-95. Rudd was president of the Texas Society of CPAs during 1986-87, a member of the AICPA Council for six terms, and chair of the National Association of State Boards of Public Accountancy (NASBA) during 1995-96. Honors have come to him from all levels of the profession and include NASBA's William H. Van Rensselaer Public Award for Meritorious Service, presented in Atlanta this month in recognition of his contributions to the profession. Additionally, he has volunteered his expertise on over 30 charitable boards.

Jimmie Lee Mason holds an MBA from Texas Tech University and Texas certificate #5788 granted in 1962. He has been a CPA in Lubbock with Mason, Warner & Co., PC, and its predecessors since 1964. Then-

Board Presiding Officer Melanie Thompson presented pins to former Presiding Officer Ronnie Rudd, left, and former Board member Jimmie Lee Mason in appreciation of their contributions to the Board and to the accounting profession.

Governor George Bush appointed him to a six-year term on the Board in 1995, and during 1997-2001, he served as vice chairman. Mason also impacted the accounting profession through his work with TSCPA, serving as president during 1984-85; AICPA; and NASBA.

His community involvement has included the United Way,

Methodist Church and Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, Boy Scouts, and YMCA. He has been a national board member of Prevent Blindness and recipient of the President's Award for Excellence from Prevent Blindness Texas. This month, NASBA presents him with the Distinguished Service Award in recognition of his many civic and charitable activities.

Boards Revisit Substantial Equivalency Issues

The concept of substantial equivalency sprang from the Uniform Accountancy Act as a way to facilitate the ability of CPAs to cross state borders without having to present credentials and pay licensing fees to the host state. It differs from reciprocal licensing in that it is intended to accommodate the practice of accountancy incidental to a CPA's primary practice. Reciprocal certification, on the other hand, is designed to streamline the process by which an accountant licensed in one state can secure certification in another state to which he or she plans to move. The State of Texas codified the concept of substantial equivalency as Section 901.412 (Registration of Out-of-State Practitioner with Substantially Equivalent Qualifications) of the Public Accountancy Act. Reciprocal certification is covered in Section 901.259 (Certificate Based on Reciprocity).

Substantial equivalency states are those that require at least 150 credit hours of qualified college coursework, a year of experience, and success at passing the uniform accountancy exam—in other words, the three Es. Although the concept is widely recognized, there are many inconsistencies in its practice among the 55 states and jurisdictions that regulate the accounting profession. This prompted a recent meeting in Austin among leaders of the TSBPA and TSCPA. From that meeting, came an effort spearheaded by Board member Coalter Baker by which Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, and New Mexico, which comprise the Southwest region of NASBA, will work toward adopting a “memorandum of understanding” in which they pledge to recognize substantial equivalency for individual licensees in these five contiguous states. This dialogue begins at a time when the CPA profession is in the process of readdressing the matter on a nationwide basis through the AICPA and various state societies.

The objective for developing an agreed-upon “memorandum of understanding” is to eliminate the need for individual CPAs to go through the sometimes lengthy process to formally notify a host state and to pay fees for incidental practice in any one of the Southwest region states. The desired outcome, says Baker, is “to show the other 50 NASBA states and jurisdictions that cross-border practice by individual licensees, without notice and fees, eases mobility while, more importantly, continuing to protect the public interest.” Widespread recognition of credentials is in the public interest because (1) the financial marketplace demands a national, if not, international practice mobility with appropriate expertise being available to service these activities and (2) enforcement of violations becomes available to the host state because the home state will be required to support the prosecution of CPAs who violate the laws or rules of the host state.

Year-Round Firm Licensing About to Begin

Year-round firm licensing will begin when firms receive license renewal packets in November 2006. Prior to sending out the packets, firms will be assigned a “renewal month” for future billings and that will determine the length of the license period during the conversion period and when future fees are due. During the conversion, license periods will range from 13 to 24 months in length, but all future statements will cover 12-month periods. All fees billed in November 2006 will be due no later than December 31, 2006. When firms receive their packets in November, they will also be advised when fees will be due again. The table that follows can be used as a quick reference for understanding the renewal process during the conversion. The “renewal month” assigned to each firm will be printed on each renewal notice.

Congressman Mike Conaway of Midland, right, a former presiding officer of the TSBPA, dropped by Board offices to visit with Executive Director William Treacy during a recent trip to Austin. Congressman Conaway was appointed to the Board by then-Governor George W. Bush in 1995 and named presiding officer two years later. Conaway, a native Texan, represents Congressional District 11, which includes 36 counties that stretch from Central Texas to New Mexico.

Board Adopts Rules Changes

At its September 21 meeting, the TSBPA Board adopted two changes to the Board Rules. The first was a proposed revision to Board Rule 511.57 concerning when, during a college career, an internship may be taken for college credit. The second change replaced the Major Case Enforcement Committee with the Technical Standards Review II Committee and renamed TSR as TSR I. Major cases will be distributed between the two committees.

In addition, several proposed Rules changes were presented on first reading: (1) whether CPA resident managers may supervise more than one office; (2) staggered firm licensing; (3) reducing the annual individual licensing fee from $60 to $45; (4) establishing a timeline for renewing terminated or surrendered sponsor registrations; and (5) allowing review of CPE sponsors that are registered with NASBA.
