RECOMMENDED TESTING ACCOMMODATIONS

As background for the specific inquiries we make concerning the applicant's need for testing accommodations for the Uniform CPA Examination (CPA Exam), a description of the CPA Exam is provided, as well as the standard testing conditions under which it is administered.

Test Format: The CPA Exam is offered only in a computer-based format. There are four timed sections of the CPA Exam, and each section covers various knowledge, skills, and abilities that an entry-level CPA should possess. The applicant is required to take and pass each section with a minimum score of 75%. Sections can be taken independently of other sections and in any order. Sections are presented in "testlets." Each testlet is comprised of a group of multiple-choice questions or short task-based simulations. Business Environment & Concepts (BEC) also tests written communication skills.

Testing Center : The CPA Exam is offered at Prometric Testing Centers. Testing centers will have workstations in a room. The applicant will be escorted to a workstation by a test center administrator. The workstation includes a standard computer keyboard, monitor, and mouse. Applicants are provided noise reducing headphones and erasable noteboard and pens. Each workstation has soundproof half walls and a swivel office chair. The applicant must remain seated during the exam, except for optional breaks of approximately 10 minutes between testlets. A 15-minute off the clock break may be taken between testlets 3 and 4. Neither food nor drinks are permitted at the workstation.

Test Scheduling: The applicant schedules the date, time, and place for each section of the exam. Testing Centers are usually open during normal business hours; however, some offer exam times in the evenings and on weekends.

Multiple-Choice Questions (MCQ): Multiple-choice questions are grouped in testlets that are constructed to appear together. Only one question and four possible answers are presented on the computer monitor at a time. The applicant selects an answer by using the “point and click method” with the computer’s mouse.

Task-Based Simulations (TBS): TBS are short case studies that test accounting knowledge and skills using real-life work-related situations. All TBS are intended to assess knowledge and skills that are appropriate for an entry-level accountant. The applicant may be asked to provide answers by:

- calculating an answer using an on-screen four-function calculator or by using the paper and pencil provided by the Testing Center;
- selecting answers from an on-screen drop-down box and fill-in check boxes;
- entering numbers into an on-screen table or form;
- researching on-screen authoritative literature;
- cutting and pasting information into specified areas of the exam; and
- completing a spreadsheet.

Written Communication Tasks (WCT): The applicant will type a written response to each communication question using a standard computer keyboard and word processor. The word processor has basic functions, shortcuts, and spellcheck.

Breaks: The applicant has an opportunity to take an optional break between testlets. A 15-minute off the clock break may be taken between testlets 3 and 4.
