IMPORTANT NOTICE: The remainder of this form must be completed by a licensed physician or other licensed health care provider qualified to diagnose and treat adult attention deficit disorder. It is important that the information be typed or printed legibly. PLEASE INCLUDE THE INFORMATION REQUESTED IN THE SPACES PROVIDED. DO NOT answer these inquiries with a notation referring to attached records.

A diagnosis of ADD or ADHD must be supported by a current (administered within the past three years) comprehensive evaluation and relevant neuropsychological or psychoeducational assessment batteries. The report must include information about the specific symptoms exhibited and documentation that the patient meets criteria for long-standing history, impairment, and pervasiveness. The information relied on by the evaluator must consist of more than a self-report and must include information from reliable third- party sources. The report must include a specific diagnosis of ADHD based on the DSM-5 diagnostic criteria. The evaluator must also provide a thorough diagnostic clinical summary that demonstrates that alternative explanations for inattentiveness, impulsivity, and/or hyperactivity have been ruled out.

It must be understood that this Form D is a summary form only, and that each item included in this form must be supported and amplified by a COMPLETE evaluation, which must also be provided to the Board. This form, along with the complete evaluation and all other required documentation, will be sent to the Board's ADHD expert. If this form and the required documentation are not legible, are not fully completed, or are not filed in a timely manner, applicant's request for testing accommodations will not be processed.

RECOMMENDED TESTING ACCOMMODATIONS

As background for the specific inquiries we make concerning the applicant's need for testing accommodations for the Uniform CPA Examination (CPA Exam), a description of the CPA Exam is provided, as well as the standard testing conditions under which it is administered.

Test Format: The CPA Exam is offered in a computer-based format. There are four timed sections of the CPA Exam, and each section covers various knowledge, skills, and abilities that an entry-level CPA should possess. The applicant is required to take and pass each section with a minimum score of 75%. Sections can be taken independently of other sections and in any order. Sections are presented in "testlets." Each testlet is comprised of either a group of multiple-choice questions or task-based simulations. The Business Environment and Concepts (BEC) section has simulations and written communication exercises.

Testing Center: The CPA Exam is offered at Prometric Testing Centers. Testing centers will have workstations in a room. The applicant will be escorted to a workstation by a test center administrator. The workstation includes a standard computer keyboard, monitor, and mouse. Applicants are provided noise reducing headphones and erasable notepad and pens. Each workstation has soundproof half walls and a swivel office chair. The applicant must remain seated during the exam except for optional breaks of approximately 10 minutes between testlets. A 15-minute off the clock break may be taken between testlets 3 and 4. Neither food nor drinks are permitted at the workstation.

Test Scheduling: The applicant schedules the date, time, and place for each section of the exam. Testing Centers are usually open during normal business hours; however, some offer exam times in the evenings and on weekends.

Multiple-Choice Questions (MCQ): MCQ are grouped in testlets that are constructed to appear together. Only one question and four possible answers are presented on the computer monitor at a time. The applicant selects an answer by using the “point and click method” with the computer’s mouse.

Task-Based Simulations (TBS): TBS are condensed case studies that test accounting knowledge and skills using real-life work-related situations. All TBS are intended to assess knowledge and skills that are appropriate for an entry-level accountant. The applicant may be asked to provide answers by:

- calculating an answer using an on-screen four-function calculator or by using the paper and pencil provided by the Testing Center;
- selecting answers from an on-screen drop-down box and fill-in check boxes;
- entering numbers into an on-screen table or form;
- researching on-screen authoritative literature;
- cutting and pasting information into specified areas of the exam; and
- creating a spreadsheet.

Written Communication Tasks (WCT): The applicant will type a written response to each communications question using a standard computer keyboard and word processor. The word processor has basic functions, shortcuts, and spellcheck.

Breaks: The applicant has an opportunity to take an optional break between testlets. A 15-minute off the clock break may be taken between testlets 3 and 4.

23. If you recommend additional testing time based on the applicant’s reduced typing speed or ability, please describe all tests conducted by you or relied on by you to determine the speed at which the applicant types, as compared to that of a person without the applicant’s disability.

24. Is there any medical or scientific study you can cite which provided you with data enabling you to determine on an objective basis the exact amount of additional testing time that will place the applicant in a testing position similar to that experienced by a person who does not have this disability?

Yes No

25. If you answered “YES” to the preceding question, please attach a copy of the study to this form. In the space below, describe how the study supports the accommodations you recommended for the applicant.

REQUIRED DOCUMENTATION AND VERIFICATION

I have attached to this Form D, copies of all records in my possession or control on which I have relied in answering the inquiries on this form. If there is some ethical or professional reason that I cannot attach the required records to this Form D for return to the applicant, I hereby certify that I will mail the required records directly to the Texas State Board of Public Accountancy, directed to the attention of the Director of Qualifications, at the following address: 505 E. Huntland Dr., Suite 380, Austin, Texas 78752-3757. I understand that the applicant's request for testing accommodations will not be processed without these records.

I understand that this completed Form D must be filed by the applicant at the same time as the Applicant files his/her Application of Intent for evaluation to take the CPA Exam.

I acknowledge that I reviewed Form G and concurred with the requested accommodations.

I certify that the information provided by me on this form is true and correct to the best of my knowledge.

I understand that a representative or agent of the Texas State Board of Public Accountancy may contact me for clarification of my responses on this form.
